

EMERY MANSION MAY BE SOLD

Wife of J. S. Emery Asks the Police Are Trying to Find the Man Who Killed Mrs. Sheriff's Sale.

Mrs. Amelia Emery, wife of J. S. Emery, the well-known citizen after whom the town of Emeryville has been named, is fighting in the courts to save her home at the corner of Park avenue and San Pablo avenue, from being sold at Sheriff's sale Monday next to satisfy a claim of Ella R. Senecal for $2,500.

The sale has been set for 10 o'clock on that day and the owner seeks, however, to prevent such an unusual act by the means of an injunction which she hopes the court will grant some time tomorrow.

In setting the application to be heard tomorrow, Judge Greene was impelled by the announcement that the sale had been set for the day specified.

The plaintiff expected that the injunction would be granted, or the application at least, heard today, but was disappointed, notwithstanding the fact that the court some time ago, granted a temporary restraining order directed against the Sheriff.

The Sheriff, however, was represented by an attorney, who made a technical legal objection to the granting of the injunction on the ground that no affidavit accompanying the complaint, had been filed with the court, and that no affidavit had been served upon the

SENATOR BARD IS STILL VERY LOW

LOS ANGELES, Sept. 19.—At noon today no decided change had taken place in the balance. The physicians' bulletin issued at 11:30 A. M. gave the temperature of the patient as 99.6 and pulse 96, the latter still irregular. Change had to be made today in the nourishment given to the sick man, the stomach being unable to assimilate the nutritives given him.

Today relief is expected from the changed treatment.

Senator Bard slept from midnight until 7 o'clock this morning, but not without the aid of an opiate. The unbroken rest improved the condition of the heart action, which decreased in rapidity from 112 to 96 during the night. Continued irregularity of the pulse and the rapid decrease in the number of pulsations caused considerable anxiety, the physicians fearing a sudden collapse of the heart, which is being watched off by the use of heart stimulants.

This morning the typhoid symptoms that appeared at the first of September were much modified. Today is deemed the critical stage, this being the ninth day of his illness and the time when typhoid germs reach fully developed. Tests for such symptoms will be made by Dr. Paget at 2 o'clock, when the patient's condition will be more fully determined.

OUR NAVY IS HE GOT AWAY ALL RIGHT. WITH A MILLION

COMMANDERS HAVE UNDAUNTED NERVE WHEN THE OCCASION REQUIRES. CASHIER ROBBED THE GOVERNMENT BY MAKING FALSE ENTRIES.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—In his report to the secretary of the Navy upon the combined operations between the Army and Navy, Admiral Higginson is full of praise in the distribution of the prize among the officers of the squadron, and especially does he commend Rear Admiral Schuchman for his very able and efficient assistance. His being the squadron into Newport at night through blinding searchlights, smoke and confusion, and the current, is pronounced to have been a brilliant piece of navigation requiring a steady and undaunted nerve.

Great credit is awarded to Captain Laxon of the Olympia for his able cutting off land and to Captain Brownson of the Alabama, and Captain Manney of the Massachusetts, for their able work. To each of the four squadrons officers receive their share of praise in the Admiral's report, wherein is noted the particular service which each rendered.

VIENNA, Sept. 19.—A further examination of the books of the Vienna Leader Bank shows that the embezzlement of Edwin Jellinek, an officer of the cashier's department who died yesterday, are about $1,150,000. The frauds were effected by the manipulation of checks and by making false entries in the books, somewhat similar to those of the Liverpool Bank case. It has been discovered, however, that Jellinek has $250,000 in his credit with various Vienna firms, in addition to investments of upwards of $500,000 in industrial enterprises.

Jellinek, later in the day was reported to have committed suicide. Adolph Jellinek, chief of the firm of Jellinek & Co., builders in which Jellinek is said to have invested $562,500, has been arrested on suspicion of complicity in the fugitive's frauds.

BRUTAL MURDERER MADE LAST STAND FOR HIS LIFE

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Peter Herlika was hanged in the County Jail at Hackensack, N. J., for the murder of Barney Kanter, a burglar.

Before his execution was accomplished Herlika made a desperate fight. When two Deputy Sheriffs approached him to strap his arms, he suddenly tore off two brass brackets on the side of his cell and, getting into the corridor, leaped over a partition.

He then tore off a piece of lead pipe and, crouching in a corner, shouted that he would brain any one who came near him. By this time the jail was in an uproar.

The Sheriff and his deputies were puzzled as to how to deal with the murderer and disarm him.

It was finally decided to turn a hose on him. This was done, and as Herlika put up his hands to ward off the water from striking him in the face, a Deputy Sheriff leaped over and grabbed the hand of the murderer in which was the lead pipe.

Other deputies quickly rushed in.

Herlika was finally overpowered and securely strapped.

He was then placed in a chair and carried to the gallows.

His clothing was dripping wet.

He was lifted from the chair and the noose quickly adjusted about his neck.

The Sheriff asked him if he had anything to say, and he replied in a weak voice: "Good-by, all. Excuse me."

The drop was then sprung, and Herlika died of strangulation. The condemned man during the night asked frequently for whiskey, and when it was refused he smashed a chair in his cell and two priests, who were with him had difficulty in quieting him.

Herlika shot Kanter on March 4 last because the latter would not sell him five cents' worth of dog meat.

JERSEY MYSTERY STILL UNSOLVED.

Will Make a Search For Doubtful Blooms Hidden Over a Century Ago.

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Detectives of New York, Jersey City and other nearby cities are working together to unravel the mystery of the death of Mrs. Joseph Pulitzer, whose nude body was found yesterday in the Morris Canal, on the outskirts of Jersey City under circumstances indicating murder.

The husband of the woman, a tailor of this city, was brought to police headquarters in the city early today and closely questioned.

Sergeant Phaler, in charge of the detective bureau last year, said that Pulitzer told the police that he was out at the primary elections on Tuesday night and when he got home he decided to have a light repast and asked his wife to prepare some cocoa.

There was none in the house and she went to get some and also some bread and fruit. According to the police, Pulitzer learned later that his wife had been to the bakery for the bread and there he lost track of her.

Sergeant Phaler added that Pulitzer had made a statement to the New York detectives which was considered so important that it would not be made public.

Mrs. Eva Fleming, who keeps the boarding house where the Pulitzer family lived at 160 West Forty-sixth street, said the couple had been living there about four weeks, that they were quiet and that she had seen Mrs. Pulitzer only two or three times. She said Pulitzer told her they had been married about four years.

According to Mrs. Fleming, Pulitzer told her after his wife's disappearance and before it was known she had been murdered, that he had come home at 11 o'clock, feeling sick and that his wife suggested she would get some fruit for him. He told her that the streets were crowded with men who had been drinking the primaries and that it would not be wise for her to go out.

She disregarded his request, however, and taking off some of her jewelry, went out for the fruit and that was the last he saw of her until he identified her body at the Jersey City Morgue.

The police say that Pulitzer formerly had a business of his own, but gave it up and turned over to his brother, who has a tailor shop in this city.

Captain Titus said the murdered woman's husband was in the hands of two detectives and that they would go over the ground thoroughly today. The Captain believed that Pulitzer's story was the truth.

The captain said the most important clue he had at present is the fact that a man called at the house where the Pulitzer lived, on Tuesday.

The theory of Chief of Police Murphy of Jersey City is that the woman was SECRETARY HAY'S APPEAL FOR ROUMANIA JEWS.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Secretary Hay's note to the Powers which were signatories of the Berlin treaty of 1878 on the subject of the treatment of the Jews in Roumania, which was received in London about a fortnight ago, was welcomed in British official circles.

The tone of the formal acknowledgment of the receipt of the note here indicates British approval of American initiative in this matter and confirms the idea that Great Britain welcomes the continued intervention of the United States in affairs in which Europe is more directly concerned, in the belief that such intervention tends to indirectly strengthen the hands of the British government. Apart from this question of exclusion of pauper aliens from Great Britain is growing more acute and anti-immigration laws are demanded in many industrial quarters.

So the government is in sympathy with Mr. Hay's protest in the hope that the wholesale export of undesirable immigrants from Eastern Europe may be checked.

The newspapers here continue to comment on the United States' note. The St. James Gazette in a semi-humorous reference to it, says:

"The European governments to whom it was addressed, must have been disagreeably surprised, for the note furnished fresh evidence of the growing disposition of the United States to take a seat in the orchestra of the European concert, which some other performers view with uneasiness."

After declaring that it is difficult to understand that President Roosevelt hopes to gain by the appeal to the signatories of the Berlin treaty, the St. James Gazette concludes that the chief American motive is humanity, and says:

"This indicates a spirit of knight-errantry which, however, creditable to a great civilized power, is likely to give the Americans plenty of occupation without increasing their popularity with the governments of the old world."

Mr. Hay's contrast of the enlightened system of America, and the intolerance of Europe is referred to by the St. James Gazette as "not devoid of self-complacency," and as intended for the edification of mankind. The paper refers to Mr. Hay as an "American Hamlet," who says:

"Look on this picture and then on that and say whether old Mother Europe should not be ashamed of herself."

The St. James Gazette suggests that South Africa would welcome the Roumanian Jews, "for whom the American government is so solicitous and yet so unwilling to welcome."

The British foreign office today gave

JUDGE NUSBAUMER IS BACK FROM WASHINGTON.

WENT TO BELLINGHAM BAY TO SETTLE BARTLETT ESTATE--SAYS IT IS A HUSTLING COUNTRY.

Judge Emil Nusbaumer returned this morning from a two weeks' visit to the State of Washington. He was accompanied by Mrs. Nusbaumer. Both enjoyed the trip immensely.

Judge Nusbaumer went North to settle up the Erastus Bartlett estate, valued at between $300,000 and $400,000. Mr. Bartlett died here and his will was probated in Oakland, but the bulk of his property is situated in Whatcom county, Fairhaven, Whatcom county, Washington, and it was necessary that the will should also be probated there. During his absence Judge Nusbaumer successfully conducted the legal proceedings necessary to a settlement of the estate under the provisions of the will.

"I am ashamed of Oakland when I return after a visit to other cities," said Judge.

"At Whatcom, a city of 18,000 inhabitants, they have a fine city hall of stone and brick, of beautiful architectural design, costing probably three or four hundred thousand dollars. The business buildings are splendid and modern. At Whatcom there is a hotel that would do credit to San Francisco. Electric lights and bells in every room

BURIED MONEY AT PRESIDIO.

Will Make a Search For Doubtful Blooms Hidden Over a Century Ago.

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Doubtful, good old Spanish doubloons, grimy with a century's burial beneath the sod may soon be unearthed by soldiers at the Presidio.

The excavation work being done at the local military post to provide level sites for the new cantonment barracks of the Seventh and the Nineteenth Regiments has caused a revival of the discussion as to whether the ground at the Presidio holds the buried treasure of the Spanish military authorities who occupied the Presidio post over one hundred years ago.

Many of the officers at the Presidio believe that the finding of the hidden Spanish gold is only a question of time. The officers point significantly to the incident of six years ago, when the War Department granted a Spaniard permission to search the Presidio for buried treasure. Cardenas came from Spain well supplied with old maps and diagrams of the post, but his search of several weeks was fruitless. Before leaving to return home he informed several of the officers at the Presidio that he had lost one of his most important maps which would have guided him to the spot where the treasure lies hidden.

THE DEPARTMENT ORDERS.

The order granting Cardenas permission to search the Presidio is as follows:

"Headquarters of the Army, Adjutant-General's Office, Washington, D. C., June 23, 1896.

"The Commanding General, Department of California—Sir: I am directed by the Major-General commanding the army to inform you that agreeably with your recommendation of June 5th, permission is granted to you, as Secretary of War to Maximiliano Cardenas to enter upon the military reservation at the Presidio, San Francisco, to make search for concealed treasure, subject to such regulations and restrictions as the commanding officer of the Presidio may see fit to impose, and in the event of discovery that he shall establish his right to the property."

"Very Respectfully,"

"Assistant Adjutant-General."

THE EXPERT'S REPORT.

In an official report to the War Department, made by an expert who was sent to inspect the post in 1890, the following paragraph is noted:

"The Presidio or Fort of San Francisco was established by Spaniards at a date unknown. Some of the adobe buildings erected by them in the early part of the seventeenth century are still standing. It was seized by the United States forces during the Mexican war, and was occupied March 2, 1848, by Captain F. J. Lipplitt, commanding Company I of Colonel J. D. Stevenson's regiment. First New York Volunteers. Its occupation for military purposes has been continuous to date. Spaniards living in the vicinity of the Presidio have been discovered burying money in the ground on the reservation, and I recommend that their application for permission to search the Presidio grounds for treasure be granted."

HOUSES STILL STANDING.

The adobe houses spoken of in the expert's report are still standing near the post headquarters. They have been rebuilt from time to time and are now used as quarters by officers of the coast and field artillery. Several of the old adobe structures adjoin the residence of Colonel Reeves, commanding of the post. It is believed that excavations of the ground in the vicinity of these adobe buildings would reveal the presence of the buried doubloons, the existence of which has been discussed by military men ever since the post was established in 1691.

During the digging of mains at the Presidio several years ago for the pipes of the Spring Valley Water Company many interesting discoveries of buried Spanish ornaments and small coins were

LORD SALISBURY IS ILL AT LUCERNE.

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Sept. 19.—An investigation of the report published by the London Times this morning regarding the health of Lord Salisbury shows that the former British premier is confined to his room here, owing to a chill and a slight attack of gout. He will probably be unable to travel for a fortnight, but it is asserted that there is no cause for anxiety.

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Private advices received in London indicate that Lord Salisbury is worse than admitted in the Lucerne dispatch. The symptoms, it is said by his friends are "not yet considered exceptionally grave."

Dr. Walker, who was summoned to Lucerne, attended Lady Salisbury during her last illness.

TWO WRECKS ON PASSENGERS.

Five Trainmen Are Killed and Two Seriously Injured in a Head-on Collision.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Sept. 19.—Five trainmen were killed and two seriously injured as the result of a head-on collision between Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh, and Pittsburgh and Western passenger trains at Wilmer station on the latter road about 10 o'clock today. George Chugerty, brakeman.

Thomas Duggan, fireman of the B. R. and P. train.
Fay De Moss, a boiler-maker who had been traveling on the Pittsburgh and Western engine.

The following are seriously injured:

H. E. Chambers, engineer of the P. and W. train; taken to a hospital; may die.
C. W. Crossman, express messenger, B. R. and P. train; will recover.

The accident is alleged to have been due to the failure to flag the passenger trains.

The Buffalo, Rochester and Pittsburgh and the Pittsburgh and Western roads occupy the same tracks to Butler, Pa. About a half mile this side of Wilmer station is a long curve. A freight train became disabled and as work is being done on a new tunnel, it necessitated all trains being run on the other track. By some mistake it is said the trains were allowed to come together

CAPTAIN OF ARCTIC STEAMER FRAM BRINGS HIS VESSEL INTO HARBOR.

HAUGESUND, Norway, Sept. 19.—The Arctic steamer Fram, homeward bound, with the Sverdrup expedition on board, passed Ustve today and took a pilot on board.

Captain Otto Sverdrup, who was in command of the Fram during Dr. Nansen's expedition to the North Pole in 1895, sailed from Christiansia, Norway, for the Arctic regions, June 24, 1898. Previous to his sailing, Lieutenant Peary complained at Captain Sverdrup's expedition and the captain explained in a letter that he did not aim to reach the Pole, but only intended to explore Greenland and to make a study of the ice in that region and by means of skirting journeys to explore the unknown regions of North Greenland.

HE DENOUNCED HIS SON AS MURDERER

VIENNA, Sept. 19.—It is reported that Tullio Murri, the well-known Socialist and lawyer of Bologna, Italy, who is accused of the murder of Count Bon Martini, recently found assassinated in his house in Bologna, has been arrested at Ala, Austria-Tyrol.

The motive of the murder of Count Bon Martini was at first attributed to robbery. On September 12, however, Professor Murri, a university professor, Count Bon Martini's father-in-law, denounced his own son, Tullio, as the murderer. The accused man, the dispatch added admitted having murdered his brother-in-law, and said the crime was committed after a brawl provoked by a family quarrel. Other reports had it that a love affair was at the bottom of the crime. Count Bon Martini lived apart from his wife.

PEARY'S LAST FAILURE.

Lieutenant Peary has returned for the third time, after a four years' cruise, without having found the North Pole. The highest latitude he reached was 84 degrees and 17 minutes, theoretically 343 nautical miles short of his destination. He expresses confidence in his ability to reach the pole if he is given time and abundant means. There is no substantial reason for doubting his belief. It is not intrinsically impossible, unless it is impossible for human life to exist in the extreme polar circle. All the known facts indicate that both life and activity can be preserved there under proper conditions.

This being the case, Peary's plan of getting to the pole is undoubtedly the most feasible one yet advanced. It is to proceed North by degrees, exploring as progress is made, and establishing supply and refuge stations at intervals on the way. Experience has proved dashes at the pole to be failures. For two centuries bold voyagers have braved the ice floes of the extreme North, first in search of an inter-oceanic passage, and second to discover the apex of the globe. All these hardy navigators have failed, and many a sad tragedy is recorded in the history of their heroic endeavors. The lesson of the repeated failures is that finding the pole must be the patient, plodding, methodical undertaking of years. It will cost money and take time, but the dangers and the hardships will be reduced to a minimum. It is the method of all great operations nowadays.

It is of importance that the geography of the polar regions be charted. That great frozen area, with its ice-wrap mysteries, can never be fully understood till man penetrates the inner circle of the pole and scientifically demonstrates the truth or falsity of the theories entertained in regard to that portion of the earth. By many the quest for the pole is regarded as springing from mere curiosity or a foolhardy love for adventure. No doubt these elements enter into the motives of the Arctic explorers, but the scientific world is deeply interested, nevertheless, in finding the pole and ascertaining the exact geographical and meteorological phenomena of the Northern center of the globe. We shall know more about the past history and future destiny of the planet we inhabit when we have unlocked the secret of the icy North.

THE TRUST ISSUE DEFINED.

A Democratic paper says the refusal of Speaker Henderson to be a candidate for re-election "will sharply emphasize the trust issue."

Not exactly. It will, however, emphasize the fact that the Democrats are making the trusts a pretext for breaking down the protective tariff and that some Republicans have taken the free trade bait because it is labeled anti-trust. While the Republicans will regret to lose such an able veteran leader as General Henderson from Congress, the Republican party will be put at no disadvantage. For the Speaker's action has made it very plain to the public that the Democratic anti-trust program is simply free trade in disguise. By refusing to make the race handicapped by a platform which partially committed him to this ruinous creed, General Henderson has stripped the trust question of the humbug with which the Democrats seek to envelop it.

The Iowa Convention placed General Henderson on a platform on which he could not consistently stand. If elected, as he surely would have been, he would have had to violate either his convictions or the platform on which he was nominated. He declined to run rather than accept the alternative. That is, he would neither be false to his convictions nor to the platform of his party. His act was that of a brave, conscientious man, who would not be placed in a false position, and who places personal honor above political preferment.

The violation of platform pledges cannot be ordinarily justified, but we think General Henderson would have been abundantly justified in ignoring the tariff-trust vagary of the Iowa State platform. That declaration embodies a party heresy. It is not in accord with the platform adopted by the last National Convention. That is the supreme party law. No State Convention can repeal it not can any set of men in Iowa or any other section of the country get together and amend or abrogate it. With perfect consistency and honor General Henderson could have placed himself on the National Republican platform and have defied criticism.

He has chosen to do otherwise, but in following the dictates of a high sense of honor, he has done the cause of American industry a great service by pointing out the insidious character of the attack being made on the principle of tariff protection. He shows that free trade as a remedy for trust monopoly is fatuous and futile, and can only result in turning over the American market to foreign trusts. He has sharply defined the issue between the two parties as regards the trusts. The Republicans stand for regulation while the Democrats stand for free trade. The Republicans propose to correct a National evil, the Democrats propose to destroy American industry.

CONGRESS IN DANGER.

Let not the Republicans be lulled into a false sense of security about the complexion of the next Congress. The contest is going to be a close one, and the chances of the Republicans are not as good as they were either two or four years ago. We need every vote we can get, and in every district the Republicans should work as if party supremacy in Congress depended upon the election of their particular candidate.

The Republicans cannot afford to lose a Congressman from California. This State is vitally interested in the protective tariff. Free trade, whether in the guise of reciprocity or an anti-trust program, will strike down the beet sugar, citrus fruit and other great industries of California.

The way to avert this threatened blow to our prosperity is to elect Republicans to Congress. Every Republican nominee for Congress in this State is pledged against reciprocity and free trade in every form. The Democrats are committed to a free trade program.

Their motto is down with the tariff. It is just as well to face the music and look the facts in the face. The complexion of the next Congress may depend upon the result in two or three California districts. Because of the great strike and certain other local causes the Republicans will lose several Congressmen in normally safe Republican districts in the East, and those losses will have to be offset by gains in other States.

Every Republican should be alive to the importance of electing Republican Congressmen.

Hon. M. P. Tarpey declines to officiate as chief pal-bearer at any more Democratic funerals. He has resigned from the National and State Committees on the plea of having private business to attend to. Mr. Tarpey has expended a great deal of time and energy and not a little money in trying to urge the Democratic donkey up the hill of success, and he has finally realized the hopeless peculiarities of the animal. So he gives the Democratic party his blessing, and leaves it to its fate.

IMPERSONATED A SPECIAL OFFICER

H. L. Weitzel, at one time Poundmaster of this city and who claims to be a watchman on Adams Wharf, was arrested last night and booked at the City Prison on a charge of drunkenness. Tomorrow a more serious charge is to be placed against him, for when searched at the City Prison a revolver was found in his pocket, for which he could show no permit giving him permission to carry one and on his breast was pinned a star proclaiming him to be a special policeman. The records do not show that Weitzel was ever appointed a special officer and Chief of Police Hodgkins will charge him with impersonating an officer. Weitzel was sentenced to three days in jail on the charge of drunkenness.

BUTCHER DISAPPEARS WITH EMPLOYER'S GOLD

Chief of Police Hodgkins has been informed of the disappearance of J. O. Anderson, a driver in the employ of J. N. Putz, a butcher with place of business at Point Richmond. A charge of embezzlement has been sworn out against Anderson by his former employer, who alleges that the missing man left town Wednesday night with $250 belonging to him. Anderson had been in the employ of Putz about three months, having come from Ravensfield. He was given employment as a driver on one of Putz's butcher wagons and on Wednesday collected a number of bills amounting to $250 and then completely dropped out of sight.

ANXIOUS TO START THE BIG TUNNEL.

Supervisor J. M. Stow of Contra Costa county visited Oakland today on business connected with the proposed tunnel between Alameda and Contra Costa counties. Speaking of the road Supervisor Stow said: "At the last meeting of the Board of Supervisors of Contra Costa county arrangements for the proposed tunnel as far as our county is concerned were completed. Contra Costa county is now ready to start the tunnel, and the remainder of the Board of Supervisors is to be in session in two weeks. We included the sum needed to pay the first installment in our tax levy this year, and we are now able to start work at any time."

MADE A ROUGH HOUSE IN A LIQUOR STORE.

Frank Martin was in the Police Court this morning on a charge of disturbing the peace preferred by W. G. Jurgens. Martin was arrested yesterday evening by Officer Andrews on complaint of Jurgens, who alleges that the prisoner attempted to demolish the interior of W. M. Watson's wholesale liquor business on Washington street while in a drunken condition. Martin has been released on $25 cash bail until a complaint can be properly filed.

HOME WEDDING.
The wedding of Miss Emma F. Willis, daughter of Mrs. A. W. Willis of Centerville, and Ralph Henry Mitchell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. R. Mitchell, Oakland, was quietly celebrated on Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. A. L. Nickerson on Eighteenth street.

The house was effectively decorated for the affair, pink being used entirely. Promptly at 8:30 o'clock the bride entered the drawing-rooms, accompanied by her brother, Willis, and San Francisco, who gave her away. The wedding gown was fashioned of white crepe de chine over tulle and trimmed with exquisite lace and the bride's bouquet was of white carnations.

The only attendant, Miss Alice Nickerson, was dressed in blue. The bride's chiton over tulle, with transparent yoke and sleeves. The ceremony was performed by Pastor Kelly of the English Lutheran Church under a bower of greens and pink blossoms.

Following the ceremony the young people received the felicitations of the guests, numbering only immediate family connections. Later an elaborate wedding supper was served. The numerous wedding gifts were exquisitely chosen and included silver and cut glass.

Late in the evening the young people left for their honeymoon trip, and on their return will reside in Fresno, where the groom is engaged in business.

WEDDING AT ST. PATRICK'S.
A pretty wedding took place in St. Patrick's church Wednesday at high noon. The contracting parties being Miss Florence J. Jones of this city and Philip Kelly of San Francisco.

The Rev. John McNally, pastor of the church, and Father Dempsey from St. Mary's Cathedral, San Francisco, officiated.

The ceremony was witnessed by relatives only. The bride is of striking personality and wore a stunning tulle gown of blue cloth and a modish hat. She carried white roses and a silver clasped prayer-book, which was a gift from the groom's mother.

Miss Edna Jones attended her sister, wearing a gown of blue pique cloth trimmed with point lace. She also wore a large black picture hat and carried pink roses. Daniel Kelly, a brother of the groom, was his best man.

After the ceremony at the church the guests repaired to the residence of the bride's parents, on Willow street. There a wedding breakfast was enjoyed. The house was prettily decorated in pink and green, the table, covered with carnations and maidenhair fern, being especially attractive.

The young couple have gone north for their honeymoon and will be absent six weeks, after which they will reside in San Francisco.

The bride is the daughter of John P. Jones, who was with the Southern Pacific company for many years and is now inspector of engines for several large factories in San Francisco. She is a graduate of the Oakland High School and is an artist of considerable ability. The groom is a member of the well-known firm of Kelly & Liebes in San Francisco.

GARDEN FETE.
Elaborate preparations are being made by the Prynthean Society at the University of California for a garden fete which is to be given this evening. The receipts from the affair are to be devoted to swelling the funds of the college hospital, which the society of college girls has undertaken to build.

The successful affair given last year is to be repeated on a larger scale. The oak glade in Co-ed Canyon will be converted into a Japanese tea garden, and fair girls in kimono will serve tea to their guests in true Oriental style. It is intended that the afternoon shall be mainly for children. Merry-go-rounds, Punch and Judy shows and donkeys will be provided to give the little ones their full share of enjoyment. The college orchestra will discourse music under the glow of the lanterns, and the various girls' organizations will each be represented by an attractive booth, where refreshments will be served to those attending.

Following fraternities and women's organizations will conduct booths: El Beta Phi, flower booth; Choral Society, ice cream; Alpha Phi, pop-corn crisps; Eta Phi Club and Delta Delta Delta, candy; Kappa Kappa Gamma, games; W. GOLD WATCHES FREE AT The PEOPLE'S THEATER

Cor. 12th and Webster Sts.

The People's Theater Amusement Company have made arrangements with a "sien" manufacturer of gold watches, whereby they will give away each week two gold watches (one lady's and one gentleman's watch) to those who will perform excellently during the week. This does not mean, however, that each person receives a gold watch, but only two out of the number present during the week. The giving away of these watches is a grand scheme which will be continued without interruption until further notice.

After the purchaser of a reserved seat will receive a coupon with a space for the name and address of the holder. Attached thereto will be a duplicate for the holder's name and address. The original will be deposited in a box at the theater, and the duplicate, which must be an exact copy of the original in every respect, will be retained by the manager for the purpose of identification should his name be drawn from among the other coupons in the box. Those who attend the performances of Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday evenings and Saturday and Sunday matinee of the week of September 13th will have an opportunity to get a lady's gold watch. FRUITVALE MAN DESERTS WIFE

CHARLES LESLIE HAS DISAPPEARED AND LEAVES FAMILY DESTITUTE.

FRUITVALE, Sept. 19.—Charles Leslie, who resided on Davis avenue, suddenly disappeared several days ago and left his wife and five children in destitute circumstances. It is the opinion of the neighbors that Leslie deserted his family.

Owing to the fact that the youngest child is but eight months old and the eldest six years, it is impossible for the mother to leave them in order to seek work. The ladies of the Fruitvale Guild are doing all in their power to assist the woman who has been left in so serious a predicament.

No trace has been found of Leslie since he disappeared.

STRANGERS CAPSIZ.
Three young men who reside near Hayward and who refused to give their names were thrown from a buggy yesterday at the corner of East Fourteenth street and Fruitvale avenue, and though not injured they were badly jarred. The accident was caused by driving too fast around the corner. The short turn in the great rapidly at which the vehicle was moving threw it over and the occupants were thrown violently to the ground. The horse became frightened and ran away. After some time the animal was captured and the young men proceeded on their way.

A NEW BUGGY.

SUCCESS OF THE HAYWARDS FAIR

MANY INTERESTING BOOTHS AT THE SHOW IN THE COUNTRY.

HAYWARDS, Sept. 19.—Yesterday was Foresters' Day at the Native Sons' Street Fair, and it was a success. There were no mishaps to delay the arrival of trains that carried the visitors to this place. At an early hour in the afternoon the crowds began to arrive, and by 8 o'clock the streets were black with spectators.

At 8:30 the Foresters' parade, headed by the Foresters' Band, marched from the Occidental Hotel to the fair grounds, where it disbanded.

The parade was under the direction of Marshal John Obermiller and his aides, M. G. Riggs and Andrew May, all of whom were mounted on the horses. Immediately following this march, and aides came a float which was one of the features of the parade.

Next in line were members of the various Courts of Foresters from about the bay. Among those represented were Court Pride of Alameda, Court Starwood of Santa Clara, Court Leander, Court Elmhurst and Courts Shell Mound, New Era, Oak Leaf, Verba and United States of Oakland. Nearly a thousand Foresters joined in the parade, which was the largest that has been given since the fair opened.

Upon reaching the fair grounds the parade disbanded, and the Foresters proceeded to the pavilion, where Grand Chief Ranger E. L. Wolf addressed a few remarks to the gathering. The rest of the evening was devoted to the fair, which was more gratifying to the natives than to have had a lengthy program keep the visitors away from the fair they had traveled so far to see.

The Natives' Court has been doing a hard office here. Since the opening of the fair there have been over a hundred arrests, and among those arrested were some of Haywards' well-known citizens. Marshal W. J. Ramage was brought before Judge Langdon on a charge of resisting an officer and was fined $150.

Judge Frowse was ordered to pay $150 for extending the glad hand too frequently. Paul Garin paid a fine of 50 cents because he was found sitting alone on a bench in a dark corner of the fair grounds.

George Gray, the Republican nominee for Public Administrator, was fined $100 because he was running for office and hoping that people would elect him.

George G. Quinn of San Leandro was brought up on the very serious charge of violating the Sunday ordinance. It was alleged that he was found sleeping on the street. The Judge made no defense and was committed to jail for 10 days and instructed not to obstruct the streets.

The number of tickets sold on the opening showed that more than 2,000 people had visited the fair, which is a good showing considering the location of Haywards and the fact that a number of misadventures occurred on the first night.

All the booths and concessions have been doing a splendid business during the first days of the fair. The Native Daughters, who have charge of the majority of the booths, report a thriving trade in all lines.

In the Natives' Hall is located the Political Booth, which is nothing more than a booth through an advertising scheme, which consists in placing the car of the various candidates in the coming election in conspicuous places on the walls about the booth. The price of a place is according to the location and ranges from five to twenty dollars. In connection with this booth is the voting for the most popular candidate. The votes are at one cent each and the sale has already reached the thousand mark.

The German ladies of Haywards have a restaurant near the entrance to the main and ballroom, where they serve meals at all hours.

In the large meeting room of the pavilion is located the candy booth, the doll booth, where the voting contest for the most popular baby is in progress. The first votes cast were as follows: May, 10; Baby Smith 70; Christel Strobel 10. The contest is a great drawing and one that has attracted the attention of every fond mother in Haywards. May held the infant daughter of the popular druggist, R. Reid, who led the contest of the opening day, is a promising candidate for the prize.

Next to the doll booth are the fancy and remembrance booths. In the latter booth is a display of the work of the club by members of Haywards Parlor who are at present on the island. These and many other beautiful fancy goods are for sale.

The fortune tellers are next in line. Malin Almir is here and tells all the secrets of the past and future.

Rebekah of the Well is a beautifully arranged booth, which is under the direction of the local lodge of Rebekahs. It is arranged to represent a well, the well being filled with kumade which is sold to the visitors at the fair.

The Victorian Improvment Club have a booth in the pavilion where they serve ice cream and cake. It is arranged beneath a canopy where there are eight tables that are always filled.

The gymnasium is used as a dance hall, where a dance is given each evening of the fair.

Along the streets of the fair grounds the Foresters have a number of other booths. At the main entrance is the flower stall, a fortune teller and button and souvenir booth.

The cane booth draws a good crowd and many souvenir canes, to which are fastened the fair colors, are being sold. A candy booth and the Natives' Trading Post are situated next to the cane booth, and it is at this place that the visitors try their luck. The post is a typical country store made of rough boards and presided over by a half dozen pretty girls.

The fish pond is a unique arrangement surrounded by trees. A chance is purchased and the purchaser draws a fish from the pond and receives anything from three cents to a tag doll. The Women's Improvement Club booth on the grounds is located opposite the fish pond and consists of an ice cream and cake booth.

The Washington have a well stocked booth in which they serve all refreshments.

Friday is the last day of the fair, and this evening a parade will be given under the auspices of that lodge. A program of interesting numbers will take place immediately after the parade.

REPUBLICAN RALLY IN THE SEVENTH WARD

SPLENDID RECEPTION GIVEN TO CANDIDATES ON THE COUNTY TICKET—SUPERVISOR ROWE PRESIDES.

The Seventh Ward Political Club held a rousing Republican meeting last night at Chapman Hall in East Oakland and amid enthusiastic speeches pledged support to the Republican nominees and the Republican party.

ROWE'S REMARKS.

Supervisor Rowe presided over the meeting and made very happy remarks in introducing the various speakers.

Lund's Mandolin Club during the course of the evening entertained the gathering with choice selections.

In opening the meeting Chairman Rowe said:

"It gives me great pleasure to open the campaign here in the Seventh Ward, where we are all friends and neighbors. It is with no little degree of pleasure that I recall being elected president of this club. In that capacity it is my pleasant duty to preside over the deliberations here this evening.

"I regret to announce that Jack Cook, who has been tried and been found true, is not here this evening. To speak a word in his favor in the Seventh Ward would be superfluous.

"It would be a waste of words to recite to you this evening the achievements of the Republican party. Sufficient to say that we are now enjoying a prosperity unequalled in the history of the world. (Applause.)

"It is my pleasure to introduce to you now a man who by his sterling integrity and unselfish acts has won a place second to none as a jurist and will call upon the Hon. S. P. Hall for a few remarks."

JUDGE HALL.

Judge Hall was loudly cheered as he stepped to the platform. He said in part:

"Mr. Chairman and voters of the Seventh Ward—You are well aware it is not customary for a candidate for judicial office to discuss politics. I shall not make a breach of that custom, more than to make a few personal remarks among my old friends. For the last twenty years I have been associated more or less with politics, and I have to thank the citizens of this county not only for having elected me to the bench, but also for the honor of having been chosen one of the judicial officers of this county.

"The strenuous and national party rises from local conditions. If we fail to keep up the party's integrity locally, we will mean nothing to the nation. Advice is for the voters to cast their ballots straight for all the Republican candidates."

ROBERT GREIG.

Robert Greig, candidate for County Recorder, was then introduced. He made a number of happy remarks and was cheered as the carpenter's candidate.

DR. N. K. FOSTER.

Dr. N. K. Foster made a characteristic speech calling the attention of the voters to the achievements of the Republican party, especially relative to its elevation of labor.

E. C. PRATHER.

E. C. Prather was received with applause. He promised a careful and economical administration of the office of County Surveyor in event of his election.

JUDGE SMITH.

Judge Mortimer Smith, candidate for election as a Justice of the Peace, was then called upon. He said:

"My anxiety is not alone for the reelection of the Republican ticket, but for the success of the entire Republican ticket. I hope that the ticket will lead from top to bottom, as it deserves to be."

JUDGE STETSON.

Judge John W. Stetson was then called upon. He said:

"I wish to re-echo the sentiments of Judge Smith. The character of the nomination tonight, in these two words, ought to be a sufficient justification for the voters to elect the Republican ticket, and I believe they will do it."

JUDGE SMITH.

Judge Swain of Berkeley was then introduced. He made the pleasure of meeting with many of the candidates on the Republican ticket. From the examples I have met, I would say that they are competent and capable of leading the party to success. One of the strange things to me is that in America there should be an organization of workingmen opposed to the success of the Republican party, and every time they meet they are told that they are wrong. (Applause.)

WILLIAM GEARY.

William Geary, one of the younger Republicans, and candidate for Justice of the Peace, was then introduced. He spoke briefly and commended the endorsement of the Republican ticket to the consideration of the voters.

PARDEE IS CHEERED.

Chairman Rowe then announced that Dr. Pardee would address the meeting later on. But owing to his time being completely occupied that gubernatorial candidate could not appear. Rowe's announcement, however, was received with thunderous applause.

Rowe spoke as follows:

"I have good news to announce. I have just learned that Alameda County's favored son, the Republican standard bearer, Dr. George C. Pardee, will be here later on in the evening. (Applause.)

"I am sure that it is not necessary for me to state Dr. Pardee's virtues. He was first a Councilman here in our city, and afterwards Mayor. His conduct in those two offices was unassailable, upright and a credit to Alameda County. When the people elect him to the highest office in the power of the people of this State, I am positive that Alameda County will be proud of Pardee's administration. (Applause.)

"While I am on my feet I want to say a word for my friend Orin Henderson of Stockton, candidate for Railroad Commissioner from this district. When you vote for him you will vote for a man with a backbone."

LYNCH WELL RECEIVED.

Professor H. H. Lynch, candidate for County Superintendent of Schools, was the next speaker. He said:

"I do not know very much about politics. My time has hitherto been devoted to educational subjects. But I have come to the conclusion early that the one thing needed is votes. After this work I am as a matter of business going to devote about twenty-four hours out of twenty-four, to getting votes. (Laughter.)

"My friends, you and I are interested in the schoolroom. That is one place where no sectarian or political influence must enter. Whatever may be the result of this campaign, the one thing I ask of you is to be true to the teachers you elect and the principal underlying the school system."

JACKSON SPEAKS.

George Jackson then addressed the meeting. He said:

"The Republican party does the right thing at the right time. It is certain that the party which is present here tonight should be imitated by every ward in the city. We have a splendid ticket and we will vote it straight from top to bottom. Do not trade. If you don't know a candidate, vote for him anyway, for you any well know he is in good company."

JOHN J. ALLEN.

John J. Allen was then introduced by Chairman Rowe. He was received with a volley of cheers. He spoke in part as follows:

"There is so much to say in the interest of the Republican party that, even though we be not an orator, we can find a few words in which to express our selves. There may be something in affliction. I remember with great pleasure that I assisted in campaigning for that grand man of the party, James G. Blaine. (Applause.)

"The Republican party, for it has always taken care of the great working multitude. I like it because of its grand policy of protection. Like the Republican party because it has made possible the rise of a man of the people like Lincoln from a rail splitter to the highest office in the gift of the people."

"The strength of the national party rises from local conditions. If we fail to keep up the party's integrity locally, we will mean nothing to the nation. Advice is for the voters to cast their ballots straight for all the Republican candidates."

FOOTPADS STILL RULE IN THE COLLEGE TOWN

MISS STEARNS AND BROTHER ON WAY FROM A DANCE.

GOLD WATCH SAVED BY A CLEVER TRICK.

BERKELEY, Sept. 19.—About midnight last night, while on their way home from a college dance, Miss Isabelle Stearns and her 15-year-old brother, Benjamin Stearns, were held up by a masked man near Shattuck avenue and Lincoln street and the youth thoroughly searched for valuables. The robber secured nothing for his trouble, for warned by the many hold-ups of late, Miss Stearns had taken possession of her brother's watch and concealed it about her person.

Miss Stearns, who is a Sophomore in the University of California, and her brother had been present at a dance in Hearst's Hall. Before leaving for their home at 1559 Shattuck avenue the brother gave his gold watch to his sister to carry, thinking that perhaps it might be detected by a midnight prowler who would not like to look on the young lady for valuable.

When near the above streets a man wearing a black muffer about his face and a slouch hat, mottled with black over his eyes, stepped out from behind a lumber pile where he had been concealed and, drawing a knife, ordered the young couple to halt. They obeyed, and the fellow searched young Stearns as he counted above and finding nothing, did not think it worth while to search Miss Stearns. He commanded the pair to proceed on their way and not look back. They immediately hurried home and the Marshal in Berkeley was notified by telephone, but so far has not been able to find the footpad.
